The College of Education is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). 100% of the College of Education’s graduates in health care professions, Liberal Arts, placed 100% of its program, within the College of Education. The Health Services Administration Medicine class of 2013 received an average of 2 job offers. Agricultural Communications, Agriculture graduates in horticulture, Job placement for College of Sciences and Mathematics, 91% pass rate for 2013. While boasting a higher rate of acceptance rates. than national license exam. Pharmacy graduates also demonstrate a 97% PASS RATE

Better still, we are also one of Kiplinger’s 100 Best College Values, which means we deliver the best for less. Better still, we are also one of Kiplinger’s 100 Best College Values, which means we deliver the best for less.

Auburn administration listened, because a group of student leaders saw a need and did something about that need. The Board of Trustees and Auburn administration listened, and in the fall of 2013, Auburn opened a state of the art Recreation and Wellness Center.

The primary reason the new Recreation and Wellness Center came to fruition is because a group of student leaders saw a need and did something about that need. The Board of Trustees and Auburn administration listened, and in the fall of 2013, Auburn opened a state of the art Recreation and Wellness Center.

The primary reason the new Recreation and Wellness Center came to fruition is because a group of student leaders saw a need and did something about that need. The Board of Trustees and Auburn administration listened, and in the fall of 2013, Auburn opened a state of the art Recreation and Wellness Center.

The primary reason the new Recreation and Wellness Center came to fruition is because a group of student leaders saw a need and did something about that need. The Board of Trustees and Auburn administration listened, and in the fall of 2013, Auburn opened a state of the art Recreation and Wellness Center.

The primary reason the new Recreation and Wellness Center came to fruition is because a group of student leaders saw a need and did something about that need. The Board of Trustees and Auburn administration listened, and in the fall of 2013, Auburn opened a state of the art Recreation and Wellness Center.
Jordan-Hare stadium seats 87,451 fans. When Auburn fans stream into town to tailgate on game day, Auburn swells to the state’s fifth most-populated city.