Scholarships

Auburn provides a variety of scholarships to eligible students through the new Auburn University Scholarship Opportunity Manager (AUSOM), which has many useful online features and benefits. Students must apply through AUSOM by December 1 to receive consideration for Freshman Scholarships and priority consideration for General Scholarships or by March 1 to receive consideration for General Scholarships and Departmental Scholarships. Incoming students are not required to submit the confirmation deposit to apply for scholarships and are only required to complete the scholarship application once each academic year.

To begin your search for scholarships in AUSOM and complete the application, please visit the AUSOM channel on the Admitted Students tab within AU Access. If you have not activated your user account, you must do that first at auburn.edu/activate.

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is available online January 1. The results of your FAFSA should be received by Auburn University by March 1 to receive priority consideration for need-based scholarships.

Visit auburn.edu/scholarship for more information on scholarships and AUSOM.

Student Housing

The Hill, Quad, Village, and South Donahue residential areas at Auburn are your "home away from home." Soon you will receive more information about the accommodations and services that Auburn offers. Want convenience, a supportive environment, and the chance to develop lasting friendships? Then live on campus!

You'll also be able to take advantage of programs, activities, and leadership opportunities right where you live. And, you can access the Internet directly through wireless connections in your room and common areas in the residence halls.

At Auburn, you're not required to live on campus, and therefore, freshmen are not guaranteed on-campus housing. Housing is guaranteed on a first-come, first-served basis, so don't delay in securing your reservation!

Following payment of your $200 confirmation deposit, you'll receive more information, which will include how to apply for University Housing. Submit your confirmation deposit today to improve your chances for placement in one of your preferred housing choices. Visit auburn.edu/housing for more information about living on campus.

If you prefer to reside off campus, visit auburnapartmentguide.com to get the latest information about off-campus living in Auburn.

Financial Aid

More than 60% of Auburn students receive some type of financial assistance. Again, the FAFSA is available online January 1. The results of your FAFSA should be received by Auburn University by March 1 to ensure maximum consideration of all financial aid opportunities. In addition to need-based scholarships, the FAFSA determines your eligibility for grants, loans, and work-study programs.

Camp War Eagle

Camp War Eagle is Auburn's award-winning freshman orientation program. Incoming freshmen and their parents or guests come to Auburn for a two-day, one-night intensive training session on "Life as an Auburn Tiger." You'll learn about academic programs and services, campus life, and Auburn traditions. You will also register for your classes during Camp War Eagle. Best of all, Camp War Eagle counselors are current Auburn students and can prepare you for success as a new student. Freshmen accepted for spring term will attend SOS orientation in the fall.

Camp War Eagle orientation materials will be mailed beginning in March. Parents will attend a program designed just for them, and they'll have the opportunity to meet with various offices on campus.
